Each year the Association participates in, and organises, events and activities designed to promote the Southern Highlands, our members and their products. Currently, the Association's flagship events are the Southern Highlands Food & Wine Festival held in September and the Australian Highlands Wine Show held in February/March each year.

MEMBERSHIP

The Association has three categories of membership. All members have equal voting rights.

FRIENDS OF FOOD & WINE Membership:

The Friends of Food & Wine Membership is designed for people who are not involved in the industry but wish to support the Association and be kept informed about, and participate in, events sponsored by the Association. Friends of Food & Wine will receive notification of up-coming events as well as a discount of 10% or more from many of the Association's Producer Members.

FRIENDS OF FOOD & WINE Membership Fees: $50 (plus $10.00 joining fee).

PRODUCER Membership:
(Open to wineries, food producers & restaurants as well as businesses engaged in related activities)

Producer members enjoy the same level of membership as a Friend of Food & Wine, PLUS their business names and contact details are listed on the SHF&W website under the appropriate category. Producer member listings also have LIVE LINKS to their own websites and the option for an additional $50 of the listing featuring their logo. Producer members have the opportunity to participate in events attended, sponsored or organised by the Association where they can promote their products. Where possible, a discount will be offered to Producer members on their participation in events organised by SHF&W.

LEADING PRODUCER Membership:
(Open to wineries, food producers & restaurants)

While they enjoy the benefits of other Members, they also have the opportunity to be featured on the website and to have their own events promoted on the website by emailing information to webmaster@southernhighlandsfoodandwine.com.au. Leading Producer members will be given preference for participation in all the Association's promotional activities. Where possible, a discount will be offered to Leading Producer members on their participation in events organised by SHF&W.
